IRVING TOLD THE PEOPLE "WHAT IS WHAT."

It was a shaking of the dry bones, that lecture of George B. Irving at the Armory last night. It was a surprise to everyone, also, for the speaker had been advertised as a booster. He turned out to be a wielder of the sledge, and the way he swung his mighty hammer made all knockers, tight wads and extreme conservatives shiver; for it was the classes mentioned that came before his attention and received the hard raps that some of them probably deserve. Instead of being a booster direct, Mr. Irving becomes one indirectly by knocking the knocker. He described some of these people in person and said that they ought to be attended to.

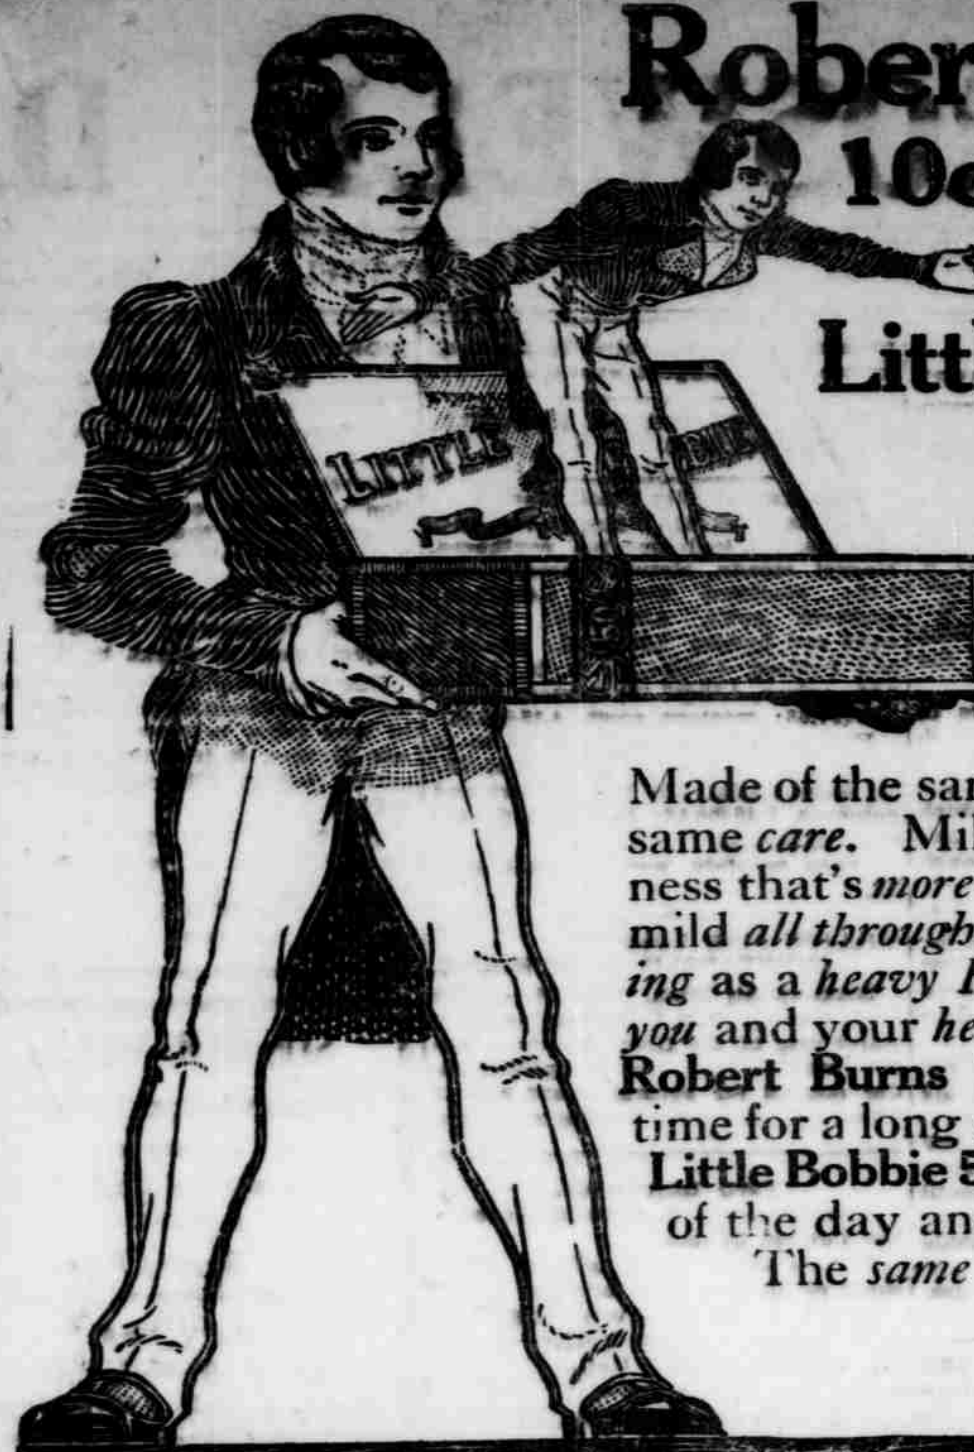

The speaker last night gave many valuable suggestions as to what the community should do in pushing forward the community interests, and his suggestions have been jotted down for action in the immediate future.

The address was heard by a crowd of three hundred people, and the way he shot out right and left at local conditions was the subject of general discussion on the street today. It is to be hoped that the warning he gave things will have a beneficial effect.

ROSWELL WON THE SERIES BY DEFEATING CLOVIS 4-3.

Roswell won the rubber game in the series of three with Clovis yesterday afternoon, by the official score of four to three. It was the third hard fight of the series, close and interesting from start to finish. The only disagreeable feature of the series was a "rag chewing" yesterday afternoon as to whether a score should be counted for Roswell when Brueggeman came in while play was in progress in which Weeks was put out, the third out, between first and second after Brueggeman had crossed the plate. The rules provide for such an emergency (See Reach, Rule 59) and Roswell should have been given the score but Manager Leland did the "magnanimous stunt" and gave in to Clovis. The score was not counted, and Roswell beat them anyhow. The score should have been 5 to 3. In the series Roswell won the first game, 3 to 2; Clovis won the second 4 to 3, and Roswell won the third, 4 to 3. The crowd yesterday was the biggest and most enthusiastic of the series.

It was a pitcher's battle yesterday more than half of the put-outs for Clovis being made by the catcher of the Clovis team and two-thirds of them by Lohman for Roswell. Thus Weeks, pitching for Roswell, had the better of the pitcher's battle. The hits were even, eight and eight. Weeks struck out sixteen, hit one and passed one. Crowell for Clovis, struck out 13, hit one and passed four. Thus Weeks had Crowell beaten three strike-outs and three bases on balls. In the field Clovis played a tighter game than did Roswell, having but one error, and that a wide throw to second in which the runner advanced an extra base. Roswell had four errors, and the three errors more than made by Clovis exactly offset the bases on balls by Crowell in excess of what was given by Weeks. All these figures show the closeness of the whole game. Each side got ten men on base, Roswell happened to run one more home than did Clovis.

For the series Roswell made ten scores, eighteen hits and eleven errors; Clovis nine scores, twenty-seven hits and four errors.

The official score for Friday.

ROSWELL VERSUS CLOVIS OR

What do You Know About Snipes? Say Jim, talkin' about Snipes and red candy and pies an' things, but do you know I been kinder interested in this base ball game, you know it hasn't been long since all the gambler houses was closed up in Roswell and all the gamblers run out of town?

But do know the amount of money bet on this base ball game was a sin. Why Jim I heard one man that was on the reception committee for the governor and come to the game with the governor, I heard him holler out, I'll bet fifty dollars on Roswell, and the governor standin' right by his side, and I saw another man, Jim, who had made a good winnin on the game just run his hand down in his pocket and pull out a hand full of money and throw it down on the counter and say

"come up boys and take something on me I don't need this money." and I seen lots of other bets too Jim. Why you would have thought that all the old gamblers in the country had come back to Roswell. Now Jim think of it Jim, all this bettin goin on right here under Jedge Pope's nose, and a big revival meetin goin on to boot. Why, Jim, if Sam Jones was alive and was to preach just one sermon in Roswell he would make these old gamblers wish they was chained to old nick. It may be all right Jim, for prominent even to do that way but the pizen seed is sowed among the boys, and it makes lots of boys rob their employers, and rob even their mothers, just to ack big like that prominent man did. Can't tell me Jim.
